PLEA TO PRESIDENT GETS PERMISSION FOR VOYAGE

President Receives Farewell Greetings From European Rulers.

On Board the U. S. S. George Washington, Sunday, June 29.—(By Wireless to the Associated Press).—Several thousand returning American soldiers and a score of pretty French war brides are on board the president's ship on its voyage to the United States. A number of soldiers who were members of the guards at the Paris White House and the hotel de Crillon, headquarters of the American delegation, were married during their stay in Paris.

The regulations provided no means for the brides to accompany their husbands aboard the George Washington and for a while it seemed that they might get left behind. A tearful joint dispatch from the brides to President Wilson, however, led to the making of arrangements for their accommodation and they are one of the happiest novelties of the voyage which so far has been in perfect weather and on a calm sea.

Farewell messages were received by President Wilson from King George of England, King Alfonso of Spain and the Emperor of Japan. The one from King George makes allusion to "the American and British people, brothers in arms, who will continue ever in peace."

The reply of the president to the message of King George was as follows: "It gives me deep pleasure to express to you my conviction of the truth of your generous words, and to assure you that the great ends which have been attained by the present peace and the new ties which have been created between our own great country and ours. We are on the eve of realizing more than we could realize them at the time, the real objects of the great war."

"The free peoples of the world, united to defeat the enemies of liberty and peace, have through their representatives wrought out a plan by which they may remain united in a free partnership of justice and of freedom through the beneficent processes of peace and the accords of a liberal policy. It is within the choice of thoughtful men of every nation to enrich the peace by their counsel. I am happy to accept your greetings at this momentous time of renewed vision and confident hope."

Emperor Yoshihito of Japan, in congratulating the president said: "It gives me the greatest pleasure to congratulate you and the great friendly people whose first magistrate you are, on the definite termination of the war in which you and they did so much to achieve final victory. Accept my warmest congratulations on this magnificent triumph which I firmly believe is the harbinger of a great new era of the world's history, eclipsing all that have gone before in the general diffusion of happiness and security."

The president replied: "Your majesty's message is received with the greatest gratification. It has been a privilege to cooperate with the very able representatives of Japan in developing the terms of peace which inevitably involved the destiny of the whole world. I believe with your majesty that the results achieved forecast a new era in the world's history because they give promise of a peace in which justice will not be imperilled by selfish inaction on the part of any single nation."

King Alfonso of Spain sent the following message: "On the occasion of the signing of the peace in which you have in conjunction with your country taken such a preponderant part, I am pleased to send you my most sincere congratulations and I ask you to accept my very best wishes and those of Spain for the happiness and prosperity of the United States of America in the new beginning. I wish you, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Wilson a good journey."

In reply to the message said: "I greatly appreciate your message. I replace with you over the signing of the peace and look forward with equal confidence to the new day in which it will be possible to give peace a new significance for the nations through common council of America and cooperation and I assure that I am expressing the feelings of the people of the United States in wishing for the fruits of the better day."

PEACE AT HOME IS CLEMENCEAU'S PLEA

Paris, June 30.—In presenting the last of the peace treaty to the chamber of deputies today Premier Clemenceau made a brief speech in which he recalled the French national assembly which met at Bordeaux in 1871 and said:

"We make peace as we made war, without internal peace is a necessity for external peace."

CAPT AGREE ON TURK TREATY, NOTE WILL SAY

YANK TRAMPLES ON FRENCH FLAG; RIOT IS RESULT

Five Americans Injured and Two French Are Killed.

CIVILIAN MOB AND MILITARY MEN IN FIGHT AT BREST

Marines With Bayonets Disperse Mob and Restore Order.

Brest, June 30.—Two French civilians were killed and five American soldiers and sailors were injured severely and more than 100 wounded in riots here last night. Two of the American soldiers are expected to die.

The casualties occurred as a result of exchange of shots between American military and naval police and French sailors.

The trouble began, according to available accounts, when an American naval officer who is said to have been drinking heavily, tore down a French flag and trampled on it. A crowd of Frenchmen attacked the officer and it is said killed and beat him until he was unconscious.

A company of marines with fixed bayonets was hurried to the scene and the Americans soon restored order. Admiral Henri Salaun, the French naval commander at Brest, ordered the marines to return to their barracks.

They marched back to their quarters in a declared, they were pursued by a mob throwing stones and bricks.

The city is quiet today.

"DOLLARS FOR DOUGHNUTS", WILL BE THE SLOGAN

Everybody knows the story of The Salvation Army doughnut—how a bright, little Salvation Army lass, with no thought but to help the American doughboy, hungry, his mind and body dulled by the agonies of a long hitch in the hell of the trenches, how she, looking about her for something that would give this boy nothing more than the comfort of a warm, soft, sweet, and thought suddenly of the humble doughnut, meaneast of the products of the bake-shop, subject to comic paper jokes, veritable poor relation of the pastry cook's family. Her thought was an inspiration—nothing less. The story of that first batch of doughnuts, fried hastily over a little wood fire behind the trenches of France, spread all over the world. The American soldier found in these doughnuts more than the "little bite to eat" which that Salvation Army girl intended them merely to be. The homely doughnut was a comfort to the soldier's soul. It transported him magically from the raging inferno of the battlefields of Europe to the peace of his own home, fired his thoughts on the things he was fighting for, heartened him and gave him the courage to laugh at the trenches, to carry out, bravely and unswervingly, the purpose which had brought him to Europe.

And now for the doughnut itself. There is only one "Doughnut, a la Pershing," and only one way to make it. It is the one commodity for which there can be no substitute. Herewith is given a receipt for making four dozen of the luscious rings of pastry that helped win the war:

Five cups flour
Two cups sugar
Five tablespoonsful of baking powder
One saltspoonful of salt
Two eggs
One and three-quarters cups of milk
One tablespoonful of lard
Knead, shape with a doughnut cutter, drop into mud hot oil and in a few minutes you have it.

Friday, July 4 will be doughnut day. Watch for the Salvation Army lassies with their baskets of doughnuts.

BETHMANN-HOLLWEG TAKES ALL THE BLAME

Berlin, June 30.—Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, former German chancellor, has formally asked the allied and associated powers to place him on trial instead of the former emperor. The former chancellor says he assumes responsibility for the acts of Germany during his period of office and places himself at the disposal of the allies.

The request of the former chancellor was made on June 25 in a communication to Premier Clemenceau, president of the conference. Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, it is said, desired to take this step on May 20 but refrained at that time on the expressed wish of the German government.

AMERICAN AVIATOR KILLED WHILE DISTRIBUTING NEWS OF WAR'S END

Engine Trouble Causes Plain to Fall Near Coblenz as Captain Schultz Dropped Newspapers Telling of Treaty.

Coblenz, Sunday, June 29.—Captain Walter Schultz of Chicago, a member of the 128th aero squadron, was killed Saturday evening when an airplane in which Captain Schultz was distributing an extra edition of the American News, the soldiers daily newspaper, announcing the details of the signing of the treaty of peace, fell near Mannheim, headquarters of the first division.

Captain Schultz volunteered to carry copies of the extra edition to soldiers who for more than a week had been concentrated at the edge of the bridgehead ready to advance in the event that the Germans refused to accept the allied terms. The accident is attributed to engine trouble.

Captain Schultz came overseas with the third cavalry, being transferred to the air service a year ago.

The afternoon German newspaper published in the area occupied by the American soldiers printed headlines dispatches to the effect that the stage was set for the last act in the war drama as far as the Germans concerned. It was reported that American aviators carrying the extra edition of the American News in aeroplanes, repeatedly circled Coblenz and great crowds of soldiers and civilians assembled when the details of the treaty were read.

In Coblenz, civilians poured over the news and the Germans who could read a little English were in demand to interpret the details of the history meeting at Versailles. In many instances the cafes and streets were filled with soldiers who spoke German interpreted the dispatches.

If there was any sadness among the soldiers over the fact that actual peace had arrived at last, it was not apparent among the people about town. In fact, the cafe orchestras seemed to play with special gusto with renewed vigor and the German drink more beer than usual. All the while, American soldiers in groups paraded the streets singing:

"When do we go home here?"

CHINESE ENVOYS AWAITING ORDERS OF GOVERNMENT

Delegates May Yet Sign Treaty If Peking Gives Permission.

CLEMENCEAU TO PRESENT TREATY TO FRENCH HOUSE

Will Make Important Statement on Home and Foreign Policies.

Paris, June 30.—In spite of their refusal to sign the peace treaty Saturday, the Chinese delegates are not regarded as having withdrawn from the peace conference and will continue to take part in the proceedings. The delegation at present is awaiting communication from Peking. If the Chinese government is disposed to sign it is said in conference circles it is still possible for its delegates to do so.

Premier Clemenceau will present the peace treaty to the chamber of deputies this afternoon, the Figaro says. The French leader will take the opportunity, the newspaper adds, to make a brief but very important statement concerning home and foreign policies.

SOLDIERS TO EAT FRIED CHICKEN

Menu Announced Indicates That Soldiers Will Dine Well at Home-coming Dinner.

July 4, is to be a banner day in Newark, for at that time the entire county is to turn out to welcome home the men who have served in the great war. The big events of the day will be the banquet to be served at the Knights of Pythias hall and for which an elaborate menu has been prepared.

On that occasion there will be fried spring chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, new string beans, sliced tomatoes, stewed apples, pickles, cheese, rolls, cherry sauce, cake, ice cream, coffee, ice tea and milk. There will be no program of set speeches arranged but an entertainer will add to the pleasure of the occasion.

The parade moves at 1:30 o'clock, and in the evening the Mardi Gras will be held in Hudson avenue. The people are again asked to donate flowers and to leave them at the mayor's office on the morning of the Fourth.

COX REFUSES TO SIGN FINANCE BILL

Allows Bill Appropriating 54 Millions to Become a Law Without His Approval.

Columbus, June 30.—Governor Cox today permitted the general appropriation bill which carries appropriations of approximately $54,000,000 for running the state government during the next two years, to become a law without his signature. It was filed in the office of the secretary of state after the ten days' veto period had elapsed.

In connection with the filing of the bill without executive approval, Governor Cox issued the following statement:

"I cannot in conscience sign this bill. Over $54,000,000 has been appropriated by the assembly, approximately $10,000,000 more than two years ago.

"The worst of it is that there will not be enough money in the treasury to pay the bills, and the budget will be passed in full knowledge of that.

"The fiscal year begins July 1, and if I were to veto the appropriation bill, no money would be available for conduct of state government.

"I shall therefore let it become a law and direct every department under my control regardless of disbursements authorized to live, if possible, within the income of the state.

"The present situation is but another evidence of the necessity of creating a budget system by constitutional amendment, as was recommended by me to the present assembly.

PROMINENT MEN URGE THE PEOPLE TO BUY W. S. S.

Albert A. Stasel, attorney, says "War Savings Stamps are without question the best investment the world offers. If they are not good, then your money is not good. Every citizen should bear his full burden of the public debt if it is a burden. The nation's debt is our debt in the same proportion that our means bears to the nation's wealth. It is a worthy effort to win the honor of being the first county in Ohio to do our duty by the nation."

Green J. Barnes, superintendent of the Newark public schools, says: "I am very glad to know that Licking County is going after the Victory shaft in earnest. The cause is most worthy and the prize one that would be a lasting testimonial to Licking county's work in the war. Licking county, up to the present time, has a 100 per cent record in every line of work during the war and it would almost be a disgrace to fall below 100 per cent in this—her last effort. Therefore, I think that the people of the county should rise to the occasion and put the county the first in the state. I only wish that the drive had come during the months when the schools were in session in order that we might have the children of the city working as a unit for the success of the noble undertaking."

Mrs. Fred Wright, Sixth ward chairman of the Women's W. S. S. organization writes: "They say 'money talks' so let's buy War Stamps then it will scream and call the Victory Shaft to Newark. War stamp work is a 'long, long, trail' but let us blaze the way, blaze the way for the Victory Shaft."

W. H. Mazy, dry goods merchant writes: "I just received your letter in which you state Licking county has an excellent chance for winning the $10,000 Victory Shaft that is offered for the county that sells the largest percentage of its W. S. S. during the summer months. I feel that if we could secure this, it would be a lasting remembrance to future generations of the work that this county did in fulfilling its obligations during the great war. I would very much like to see Licking county inaugurate some campaign that would secure this shaft for us, and I thoroughly believe if we each one do our duty, we can land this for Licking county. I have sent a pledge card in to Mr. Cooper for $1,000 worth of stamps and will be pleased to assist in any way that I can to further this most excellent movement. Everybody appreciates that the War Savings Stamp is the best possible investment. It never depreciates, and we can get the money any time we want. This makes it a splendid investment for anyone who

WOMEN'S CAMPAIGN IN LICKING COUNTY IS BEST IN OHIO

"The Licking county women's campaign, for the sale of War Savings Stamps is the best in the state," writes John A. Kelly, secretary of the Ohio War Savings committee.

And this statement is made before the women in the county and village districts have had a chance to show what they can do. Newark women, 120 of them, organized for a W. S. S. drive sold $106,000 worth of stamps to eleven hundred people. The township are now being organized for a drive, the organizations having been perfected in seven townships up to this time. The women intend to push W. S. S. sales during July and to advance Licking county's standing so that a grand rush in August will put the county over the top and win the $10,000 prize shaft.

In order to count in the Victory shaft contest, stamps must be bought before Sept. 1. Those who signed pledges to buy later in the year are urged to buy in July and August if possible.

Byron L. Hawke, cashier of the Hebron Bank, has just ordered 200 W. S. S. which he will put away with the 200 bought last year for the Hebron bank. That's all the government will allow the bank to hold as its own. If W. S. S. are good enough for banks to buy for themselves they are good enough for anybody. Every Newark bank now owns as many W. S. S. as the law permits.

About 40 leading merchants are carrying in their newspaper advertising an appeal for success of the W. S. S. drive.

Leading men of the community are sending the endorsement of W. S. S. to the newspapers urging the people to support the War Savings Stamp drive.

Owing to removal from the city to Chicago Mrs. Walter Bainbridge has resigned as Sixth ward chairman of the Women's division, War Savings Stamp committee, and Mrs. William C. Gardner, 515 Hudson avenue, has been chosen in her place. Mrs. Bainbridge had the honor of leading the division which reported nearly $25,000 of W. S. S. pledges during the Women's June W. S. S. drive.

Members of the Ohio Banker's Association insist more War Savings Stamps must be sold. Resolutions just adopted by the association declare that it is essential that education in thrift be continued and encouraged as the people of our country during the war were educated to a habit of systematic thrift in the purchase of War Savings Stamps. Inestimable benefit to both the government and the people is derived from the steady purchase and accumulation of War Savings Stamps, according to the bankers' resolution. An appeal was issued for all bankers to encourage and assist in the widest distribution of War Stamps.

Keep Sweet.
Looking the fonder takes all the sweet, pure feeling out of life. One may set up in the morning with a clean heart full of song, and start out as happy as a bird, and the moment he is crowded and given way to temper the clean feeling vanishes; and a load as heavy as lead is rolled upon the heart. Be the master of your temper and you hold the key to joy and contentment.

Umbrella Improvement.
It is the little things which make for perfection, we are told. An inventor has perfected a device which certainly shows a taste for perfection. No one is unfamiliar with the strip of tape with a catch which is used singly to wind up closed umbrellas. When the umbrella is open this piece of tape dangles and pendulates in a way that undoubtedly is offensive to the dignity of some. The inventor to question has made an invention which provides means of stowing away the pendant into the interior of the opened umbrella by means of a snapping device.

CONVICTED SLAYER HANGS SELF IN JAIL

Muncie, N. Y., Jun. 30.—Dr. Walter Keen Wilkins, who was convicted of the murder of his wife, Julia, by a jury here Friday afternoon, committed suicide in the bathroom of the Nassau county jail last night by hanging himself with a rope.

Although the physician's pulse was still beating when he was cut down and every effort was made by the jail physicians to save his life, he died a few minutes after a clock. Dr. Wilkins' neck was broken, it was announced. The rope Dr. Wilkins used was brand new. He had been thoroughly searched on Saturday, jail officials said, and it would have been impossible for him to have concealed the rope about his person.

Every precaution had been taken to prevent Dr. Wilkins from obtaining anything with which he might attempt suicide and his jailers were unable to explain how he came into possession of the rope, which was new. It was impossible for any one from the outside to throw the rope to the prisoner, for his cell contained no windows. The bathroom where Dr. Wilkins ended his life also was without windows. A search of hardware stores and other places where rope is sold was to be made today in an effort to trace the purchaser. One of three letters written by Dr. Wilkins just before he ended his life, declared that he was innocent. Another addressed to Sheriff Seaman requested that $50 in his clothes be used to have his body cremated.

Mrs. Julia Wilkins, for whose death her husband was held responsible, was beaten to death on the night of February 27 last in the driveway of her Long Beach home, her skull fractured by a hammer and a piece of lead pipe. She had struggled for her life.

Dr. Wilkins informed the authorities that both he and his wife had been attacked by three burglars whom they had surprised at work when they returned home.

Real People

That's what the doughboys called the Salvation Army workers on the battle-fields and back of the lines in France.

They were "real people" to the soldier, because they were just like the f lks back home, with hands accustomed to work and eyes always ready to smile.

And now these same "real people," back from the war with new laurels, have built their trenches in the Streets of Poverty in America. They well wage the fight for the poor and unfortunate at home, just as they have done for years, only on a larger scale.

Centenary Celebration Columbus Ohio

Described by William C. Freeman, Associated with Paul Block, Inc., New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston.

Political parties differ in matters of government—national, state and municipal.

BUT THEY ARE IN PERFECT ACCORD WHEN IT COMES TO STANDING UP AND BEING COUNTED FOR A GOOD CAUSE, such as a cause for instance, as finds expression in the Centenary Celebration Columbus.

Ex-President William Howard Taft, prompted by impulses as big and as genuine as he is, graced the Centenary Celebration with his presence last Friday and delivered one of his masterful, human talks which are doing so much to make the people understand the beatitudes of life, and to live accordingly. His words are always impressive and effective because the people know that a magnificent manhood is embodied in his big frame, which is guided by a big heart and a big brain.

President Wilson has given his unqualified endorsement to the Centenary Celebration Columbus because of the magnificent work it stands for and is carrying on throughout the world. He will attend it when he returns to the country in time. The Brotherhood of Man is the President's code. It is also the code of the Centenary Celebration Columbus.

Walter D. Hines, administrator of the Exposition, is giving splendid support to the Centenary Celebration. He has made it possible for anybody living in any part of the United States to visit the Exposition by paying a full fare one way, and paying the only one-third fare on the return trip.

William G. McAdoo, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, will attend the Centenary Celebration Columbus on July 4th and will talk to the multitude on the League of Nations. Wonderfully human is Mr. McAdoo, with a vision greatly broadened as the result of personal contact with so many angles of life in recent years.

Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, will speak at the State Fair Grounds Columbus on July 5th, set apart as Minute Men Day. 20,000 Minute men will parade. 10,000 specially designed colonial hats will be given to men taking part in the parade. The men are coming from Boston wearing original Minute Men costumes, to take part in the parade. There are 65,000 men enrolled in the Minute Men, all prominent laymen, organization affiliated with the Methodist Church which sponsors the Centenary Celebration Columbus.

But the Centenary Celebration Columbus is more than such broad, human, generous lines that people of any or all faiths may attend, for after all we are all interested in doing our best to uplift the manhood and womanhood of the world—aren't we?

General Charles P. Menoher, formerly Commander of the Rainbow Division, now in charge of Aviation, will also speak on July 5th and will bring along some bird-men to thrill spectators with exhibitions of their skill and daring in the air.

July 5th John R. Mott who refused to be Ambassador to China to manage the Y. M. C. A. will speak. Not a dull or unhappy moment any day, any hour from early morning till late at night at this CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS. See it. It will inspire you. It crowds many fine thoughts into the minds of the people that attend.

A new feature has been added to the CENTENARY CELEBRATION: "BOB" Jones, that most effective evangelist from the sunny South, holds forth nightly in a large tent at the State Fair Grounds where 500 people can be comfortably seated. Many people attending the Exposition wanted this outlet for the emotions stirred in them after witnessing the wonders of the CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS during the day.

"Bob" Jones stirs the hearts and consciences of his hearers. Daily Band Concerts:

Trombone Band, 4:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.

Rainbow Band, 2:45 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Colored Regiment Band, 2 p.m. 50 Negroes form a chorus to sing their own heart melodies.

Mothers, you may bring your young children with you and while you are seeing the celebration your babies will be taken care of by experts at the nursery without charge.

Drop everything and see this "heavenly and truly" wonderful CENTENARY CELEBRATION COLUMBUS.

P. R.—In the lecture hall in the Indian Building Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be given a Zenana Party (Zenana meaning in India, the woman's quarters in high class homes). This party is in honor of Mrs. Bishop Parker, the oldest missionary in India, and Mrs. Bishop Warner. Zenana ladies will be conducted to the richest oriental silks and there will be many features of great interest. Ladies only invited.

Crowther wrote and produced a pageant "Wayfarer" for the celebration, one of the big entertainment features of the expo, which lasts until July 18. One of the picturesque figures attending the sessions is Capt. W. H. Hardy of Portland, Ore. He is the sole survivor of the Perry expedition to Japan in 1853. He is eighty-four years old.

French Port Regains Trade.

While Havre was still young the seafaring men of Honfleur conquered Newfoundland, founded Quebec and established numerous trading posts in India. Much of the town's commerce was gradually absorbed by Havre. At the outbreak of the great war, however, Honfleur had a prosperous export trade with England in dairy products, fruits and vegetables, and a considerable quantity of lumber was imported direct from the Scandinavian countries.

Stranger to Western World.

The Asiatic zoological expedition, sent into the South Chinese mountain province of Yunnan to investigate its range of animal life, succeeded in securing several fine specimens of the serow, which is a stranger to the western world. The serow is a mountain dweller, somewhat like the chamois. It is wary and fleet and takes a dizzy and seemingly impossible course among its native crags.

Hanging Pictures.

It is easy to make mistakes in the hanging of pictures. Observing the following as a guide you will make fewer mistakes in this respect. First, a plain paper for the room is almost imperative. This will give you an opportunity to use all the pictures, no matter what they are. Soft grays and terra cotta tones are best for background. Avoid figured and highly-colored papers as these prevent the picture from standing out. Be careful not to fill the pictures too much. Hang them almost flat.

Physicians' Oath.

A part of the Hippocratic oath is as follows: "Whatever, in connection with my professional practice, or not in connection with it, I may see or hear in the lives of men which ought not to be spoken abroad, I will not divulge, as reckoning that all such should be kept secret." This oath is respected by every court in the world, and rarely indeed has it ever been broken by a reputable physician.

Whence "Dutch."

The name Dutch is derived from Dietsch, meaning the vernacular, as distinguished from Latin. It is the same word as the German Deutsch. Dutch belongs to the Frankish division of the Low German, and is closely related to the Flemish, with which it is now practically identified in its written form. The Dutch language is one of the Germanic group of dialects, and is practically the same in its structure.

Evidently No Lover of Cards.

It is very wonderful to see persons of the best sense passing hours together in shuffling and dividing a pack of cards with no conversation but in different figures. Could not a man what is made up of a few game phrases, and no other ideas but those of black or red spots ranged together laugh to hear any one of his species complaining that life is short?—Addison.

Moroccan Charm.

Moroccan wives have a recipe for winning back affection. The suspicious wife draws a line of honey from forehead to chin and collects the drippings. Then she rubs the tip of her tongue with a fig leaf till it bleeds and soaks seven grains of salt in the blood. This she mixes with the honey and puts the dose in the erring husband's food.

HERE'S NEW BRIDAL FASHION IN ENGLAND

Capt. and Mrs. G. C. Martin.

With the war over, society girls and the world in general are looking around for something to produce at least one tiny thrill. Here is one girl who has provided at least something to talk about. She is Mrs. G. C. Martin, who last a few minutes before the picture was taken was Miss Barbara Judd. She started a new fashion and a bit of gossip at the same time by "smoking up" with her husband, Capt. G. C. Martin, immediately after the ceremony. The couple were married at St. Peter's.

THE PEACE TERMS.

Germany expressly states that she signs the peace treaty merely because compelled to do so by force. But if it is essentially just, Germany will find that lament and protestations will be useless.

A certain element of people in this country, not all of whom have been regarded in the past as pro-German, are denouncing these peace terms, as lacking in conciliatory spirit. They are declared to be based on the old principles of imperialism and conquest.

It will be found that the people who take this attitude, are usually inclined toward Socialistic ideas. Germany has now overthrown autocracy, nominally at least, and is apparently committed to socialistic principles. Hence a certain element of people of the stripe feel much more sympathetic today with Germany than they do with France or Italy, which are merely democratic.

According to those near Socialists, the evil deeds of Germany were due to a wicked government. Now that government has been overthrown, the people have manifested their good faith, and should be accepted as good and sincere friends and treated with an equality.

The trouble with the point of view that it utterly ignores a mountainous array of facts and evidence, showing that the German people thoroughly participated in the evil deeds of their government. They applauded to the skies its barbarous acts, and worked policy—so long as it was successful. Now that it did not compute, they attempt to make it go.

Furthermore, even if the German people were honest but were deceived by their government, a people that can be so led around by wicked men would be just as dangerous as if they were evil themselves. How can they be regarded then as not a very serious lesson. The peace terms are expected do not seem to show for the crime they have committed.

It is noted that a number of our "significant" Senators are expected to declare to defeat and to the President and the Congress of the United States, planning to follow him in the next four. They will remind the Nation of a pack of yelling mongers, running at the head of a charge.

Even the hideous plot to assassinate King in charge of the United States Senate will come under the same umbrella of "peace" terms, which goes to show that the Senate is even more corrupt than the House, and even more unworthy of public confidence.

It is to laugh when Senators save the Democrats are made to save a partisan issue. We can't think that everyone knows that forced it to become an issue, it is going to ride the issue to the end.

One by one the props are slipping out from under the round robbers.

SENATOR McCUMBER.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota, Republican member of the foreign relations committee in the Senate, throws the spot light on the malicious attempt of his Republican colleagues to discredit the league and treaty. He declared in a Senate speech that the league offers the only hope of preventing future and more terrible wars. Severe indeed is his indictment of Senate obstructionists. He declared: "In 20 years of service in the Senate I have known but one instrument whose terms have been so willfully misinterpreted and so grossly misrepresented as the covenant of the league of nations. That some of it is vague, I know, and some portions objectionable from particular viewpoints. But that it discriminates against us, is unfair in its treatment of our country, or that it imposes on us any obligation or burden that is not equally borne by every other nation I emphatically deny."

Replying to Senator Johnson's declaration that America by virtue of isolation, does not need European nations as partners, Senator McCumber said that that isolation had long since broken down, a European quarrel having cost the United States 50,000 lives and $10,000,000,000. He said that the Republican party had preached the reduction of armaments for years. "Now present to me, if you can, a better or safer plan than provided in this treaty, or else acknowledge frankly that we never intended to conform acts to our declarations."

In regard to territorial integrity he asserted that the league merely has to do with aggression from the outside and nothing whatever to do with internal troubles of a nation. In conclusion the North Dakota Senator declared that the league is a "scheme to preserve peace."

It is refreshing to find a Republican in the Senate big and broad enough to put the future of his nation and the world ahead of partisan politics. The McCumber endorsement of the league carries great weight.

Ohio National Guardsmen will not receive their pay for attendance at drill or on duty because the legislature failed to pass legislation in compliance with the Federal law. Good gracious, don't blame the poor legislature for failing to pass this measure. It only had a session lasting less than six months and how could it get anything done in that time?

WHEN MEMBERS REFUSE TO YIELD.

(New York Sun.)

It is a closed affair as to the fact of the repeal of the daylight saving law, but nothing can close the interest of a puzzled folk in the alleged reasons for the repeal. Much light is cast upon the subject by official reports of the "last debate" in the house, and nothing is more revealing than certain eloquent silences therein noted. Debate is brought about in house and senate by the same form of question, "Will the gentleman yield?" and usually the gentleman yields, if for no other reason than to prove to Record readers that the speech was actually delivered and is not merely a leave-to-print affair.

It is noticeable, reading the Congressional Record, that in this debate, or, strictly speaking, series of monologues, in the main, that advocates of repeal stubbornly refused to yield even under persistent pressure. "The gentleman," even in passionate orator, "under this law loses an hour of daylight in which to cultivate his crops that you city dwellers may not starve." "Will the gentleman yield?" He will not, he has no time, his questioner agrees to get him time. Yet the gentleman will not yield because he knows that he will be asked to explain how the law deprives the farmer of an hour of daylight, to explain why the turning of the hands of a clock curtails the time between rising and setting of the sun.

It was occasionally disclosed how the rural prejudice against daylight saving was not melted. Cooper of Ohio not Cooper of Wisconsin, who knows good music and good dinners and there is some, but Cooper of Ohio—told the house that those who favored daylight saving were New Yorkers, who rise about 2 o'clock and go to their office at 10:30. Then they go to the club at 12 and stay there until 2:30. They come back to the office for an hour and then the chauffeur calls for them and takes them to the golf links until dinner time. We recognize the necessity of assuring readers that the question is asking verbatim from the official report.

Much it may be expedient for the Society for the Study of Social Issues and Variant Minds to devote some of its valuable time to investigation with the purpose of discovering a cure of "constitutions" which willfully advise themselves as to the effect of members of the more numerous branch of congress.

MOONEY'S SENSIBLE TALK.

(Philadelphia Gazette Times.)
A debate on the constitution with respect to the celebrated California trial may be there can be no question that Thomas J. Mooney is a man worth listening to when he gives his views on the moral and political aspects of the case. Mooney has issued a warning to the radicals who have made his case their own not to cause any more explosions on July 4, because they will not benefit any cause, but they will be a source of shame. No more public interference has been delivered touching the Mooney case than that, and the warning is applicable to radical activities in general.

Mooney is serving a sentence of life imprisonment as a result of a bomb explosion in San Francisco three years ago. Is there anyone in the whole world capable of coherent thought who does not think that the death of the people benefited from that death out? What good did the bomb plot of May 1 on the explosion of June 1 do? Is it possible that more of the same would turn any sentiment in favor of even in whose interest such outbreaks of violence were alleged to be? There is not a chance of any such result. If an injustice has been done to Mooney, the wrong will be righted.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Mayor Atherton—More than half of the civilized world is now rushing through the storm and chaos of revolution. Therefore, the World War is not over—it is not half over. It will not be over until all the civilized nations reach that stability of opinion which shall promise and produce the blessings of justice and happiness. It will not be over until democracy is again made safe to all the world. Therefore, I believe in the League of Nations to this extent, that it is the real panacea of the world today. Therefore, give up the League of Nations. Oh ye Senators of the United States!

B. F. McDonald—I am for the League of Nations and every other league that will give reasonable promise of assured peace in the world. To the delegates representing the various allied powers in conference in Paris I attribute honesty of purpose and believe that the league proposed by them is the best in their judgment they have been able to produce from the no doubt many conflicting opinions there presented. It may be the league as proposed is imperfect, I don't know. So were the Articles of Confederation, but they served their purpose and out of them came the Constitution of America, the greatest fundamental law now known. It would be indeed strange if this proposed constitution of the nations of the world would prove an absolutely perfect instrument, produced as it is from such a chaotic condition of the world.

We said to the soldier boy who donned the khaki and went to the front, we said to the man, who gave of his money for the prosecution of the war, we said to the mother who bade farewell to her soldier boy and said to our children who assisted us in every way possible to win the war that "Now that the war is won we would prove loyalty to the League of Nations, especially to those boys who sleep beneath the soil of foreign fields, should we fail to embody this safeguard against future wars in the treaty of peace. I believe that the League of Nations should be ratified by the United States senate as an essential part of the treaty of peace for I consider the formation of this League and the securing of its acceptance by some thirty different nationalities as great a victory in the field of diplomacy as the achievements of the army and navy during the war. Therefore, I hope there will be no unnecessary delay in the ratification of the treaty on the part of the United States Senate.

Prof. Homer C. Price—I consider the League of Nations highly desirable, and that the senators who are opposing it are entirely wrong for it will tend to keep the United States and other nations out of war and to establish the reign of peace on earth and good will to man. A Determined Man.
Aunt Caline says: "A few days ago Otto an' took I an' Zeke out for a all-day ride with a picnic thrown in. An' we sure did have a good time but poor Otto he was taken with a little tooth ache an' it just about drove him wild so he couldn't eat a bite of dinner. The pane kept a getting worse an' worse an' as we were a coming home Zeke seen a snake in a little town which it said, 'Dentist,' so he says, 'Otto you better stop here an' have it out.' An' to our surprise Otto stopped the car an' went in an' says to the dentist, 'Pull this tooth quick!' he says. So the dentist yanked out a tooth an' soon he looked at it, he says, 'Now ain't that two bad?' says Otto. 'What's two bad?' says the dentist. 'I pulled the wrong tooth!' But says he, 'my motto is 'if at first you don't succeed, try, try again,' so set down an' I'll get the right one if I have to pull every tooth in your head,' says he.

Did You Know
That the word "lot," in the phrase, "to land, while in universal use in the United States, is unknown in England? It is said to have had its origin in the old Puritan custom of distributing lands by lot. The first settlers in the seaboard plantations of New England owned extensive salt marshes in common and the hay produced on them was cut and cured according to each one's needs. But competition grew more complicated as the population increased and it was thought best to divide these commons into equal portions, the choice of ownership being decided by lot. Hence, the word lot came to mean any small division of land.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Mayor Atherton—More than half of the civilized world is now rushing through the storm and chaos of revolution. Therefore, the World War is not over—it is not half over. It will not be over until all the civilized nations reach that stability of opinion which shall promise and produce the blessings of justice and happiness. It will not be over until democracy is again made safe to all the world. Therefore, I believe in the League of Nations to this extent, that it is the real panacea of the world today. Therefore, give up the League of Nations. Oh ye Senators of the United States!

B. F. McDonald—I am for the League of Nations and every other league that will give reasonable promise of assured peace in the world. To the delegates representing the various allied powers in conference in Paris I attribute honesty of purpose and believe that the league proposed by them is the best in their judgment they have been able to produce from the no doubt many conflicting opinions there presented. It may be the league as proposed is imperfect, I don't know. So were the Articles of Confederation, but they served their purpose and out of them came the Constitution of America, the greatest fundamental law now known. It would be indeed strange if this proposed constitution of the nations of the world would prove an absolutely perfect instrument, produced as it is from such a chaotic condition of the world.

We said to the soldier boy who donned the khaki and went to the front, we said to the man, who gave of his money for the prosecution of the war, we said to the mother who bade farewell to her soldier boy and said to our children who assisted us in every way possible to win the war that "Now that the war is won we would prove loyalty to the League of Nations, especially to those boys who sleep beneath the soil of foreign fields, should we fail to embody this safeguard against future wars in the treaty of peace. I believe that the League of Nations should be ratified by the United States senate as an essential part of the treaty of peace for I consider the formation of this League and the securing of its acceptance by some thirty different nationalities as great a victory in the field of diplomacy as the achievements of the army and navy during the war. Therefore, I hope there will be no unnecessary delay in the ratification of the treaty on the part of the United States Senate.

To this union were born five children, Charles, Ora, Marnie, Alice and John. She was a devoted wife and mother, a kind neighbor, a sincere and earnest follower of her Lord and true to her church. Her sudden call to the "home prepared for her" was a shock to her family and friends, but she was obedient to her Savior in life and we feel sure she was ready for the call and is now rejoicing with her husband in the presence of the Master.

She leaves to mourn their loss besides her children, three grand children, one sister, Mrs. Nellie Merrill of Mansfield, O., one brother, William Owens of New York, O., and many relatives and friends. Funeral services for Charles E. Kendall, who died at his home in New Castle, Indiana, were held this afternoon at 2:30 at Criss Brothers establishment and burial was made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Alice Jane Hillbrand.
Alice Jane, daughter of John and Mary Owens, was born in Granville, O., April 20, 1856. She was united in marriage to Aaron P. Hillbrand April 15, 1888. To this union were born five children, Charles, Ora, Marnie, Alice and John. She was a devoted wife and mother, a kind neighbor, a sincere and earnest follower of her Lord and true to her church. Her sudden call to the "home prepared for her" was a shock to her family and friends, but she was obedient to her Savior in life and we feel sure she was ready for the call and is now rejoicing with her husband in the presence of the Master.

VETERAN EDITOR CALLED BY DEATH

John M. Amos, Publisher of Cambridge Jeffersonian and Trustee of Denison University Dies Early Today.

John M. Amos, 78, veteran publisher of the Cambridge Jeffersonian and a trustee of Denison University, died this morning at 7 o'clock at his home in Cambridge. The funeral will be held at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Amos leaves five sons and one daughter, Edgar, Herbert, Frank, Wiley, Harry and Mrs. Kate Barker. Harry Amos is the daughter of Attorney J. R. Davies of this city.

Mr. Amos was one of the best known newspaper editors in Ohio. He was active in his church, in politics, and in building up a splendid newspaper at Cambridge. Interested in educational matters, Mr. Amos gave a great deal of his time towards the promotion of the interests of Denison university at Granville.

Make Themselves Clothes.

Among the animal tailors are the smooth caterpillars. Naked and unarmed, their extreme vulnerability places them at the mercy of numerous enemies; but many families of them are remarkable for making little sheaths or garments for the protection of their bodies, notably the silk-worm, than whom the lilies of the field are not more gorgeously arrayed.

Curiosities of the Calendar.

It will be found that January always begins on the same day of the week as October, and the same is true of April and July, September and December. Again February, March and November also begin on the same day of the week. This, however, is only true in years of 365 days.

Invented First Chronometer.

The first chronometer of any value was the invention of John Harrison, about 1750, for which he received from the British board of longitude $50,000 as a part of $100,000 which "they offered for many years as a reward for a thoroughly trustworthy timekeeper."

Home of Nymphs.

Near the cape of Shima, in Japan, there is a village the name of which in Japanese means "The settlement of Nymphs." Woman in this village is the predominant partner. The chief industry is pearl fishing and the women are the fishers. The men stay at home and do the work.

African Idea of Beauty.

In Africa a crop of the blackest, curliest, closest hair, imaginable makes a girl the belle of the kral, especially if she be plump, with pigg eyes, thick lips, a nose like an India rubber shoe, and a skin that shines like a cooking stove.

Optimistic Thought.

Against stupidity the very gods fight in vain.

Our Boys and Girls

The baby of today has all sorts of new furniture for its use. One of the most practical and inexpensive as well as satisfactory first beds is an ordinary wicker clothes basket covered on the inside with a soft padded lining. The miniature hammocks that come for infants are also inexpensive and very durable. They are so carefully made there is no danger of their upsetting and they can be hung wherever desired. The bed that is favored by the majority of mothers is one that, being set the room or from one room to another, on wheels, can be easily shifted about. In the case where a crib is used it is a good plan to have it raised on stilts to a more convenient height. This saves a great deal of unnecessary bending and lifting and, when covered with a rubber pad, the baby can be comfortably bathed in the crib while standing. The stilts are simply strong pieces of wood fastened to the legs of the crib and can be applied by any home carpenter.

HEAVYWEIGHT CAUTIONED TO AVOID INJURY WHICH MIGHT PREVENT BOUT

Willard Cuts Out Road Work and Dempsey Will Stop All Training on Wednesday—Tiltcholder Gives Views on Training Methods.

Toledo, June 23.—For fear of an injury to his hands, on the eve of his heavyweight championship bout with Jess Willard, Jack Dempsey today was instructed to eliminate all heavy hitting from his training bouts. The instructions were issued at the request of Tex Rickard, promoter of the fourth of July match, who also intends to make the same request of Willard.

Sunday saw the last hard workout for Dempsey and from now on the challenger will ease off rapidly in his training. This is a necessity rather than a choice so far as the Salt Lake City heavyweight is concerned, for he is so fine physically that there is more than a remote danger of his going stale. In fact, many close observers lean to the opinion that Dempsey reached the pink of condition some days ago and only the most skillful handling will permit him to retain the form that has made him the marvel of all those who have had an opportunity to view him.

This afternoon Dempsey plans to box four rounds in which nothing but light work will be attempted. It is the idea of Trainer Jimmy F. Forest to give him charge just enough work to keep him supple and maintain his judgment of distance. In addition to the boxing he will change his morning road run to a fast walk and by Wednesday he will change his mind. The cool breeze of the week end will put a feeling of snap in the champion and lead him to decide to work steadily until Wednesday at least. The tiltcholder long since dropped all forms of road work with the explanation that he did not think it benefited a man of his tremendous bulk. "I know that many close followers of boxing do not agree with me on this point," said Willard, "but I am convinced that in my case at least, I feel better without running on the road. In the past I tried out the plan and came back to quarters so played out that I had no pep for the rest of the day. I know that you can run a small pony all day, but you will kill a big truck horse with the same trick. I feel sure that I can and have developed all the leg and wind endurance I need with my shadow boxing, gymnasium and other training work. I may be wrong of course, and if I am I will have to pay the bill, but I am not waverling on that point."

Nevertheless the controversy regarding Willard's training system and his condition continue to rage among the physical culture sharps who are aligned in widely separate camps. Those who think that he should have done more work admit that he is in better shape than when he met Jack Moran in New York, but claim that he is too fat. They say the condition in which he defeated Jack Johnson in Havana, Willard contends that he has been training for more than three months and his weight shows this for he tips the scale of 244 today in place of the 233 when he defeated Moran. He expects to enter the ring on Friday at about 235. This will be about three pounds below his weight when he won the championship.

Willard claims that his dieting and not the work has reduced his weight and furthermore, he does not need to lose weight to enter the ring on Friday as he did when he had the possibility of a 45-round battle staring him in the face.

Niktor Willard nor Dempsey plans to give on during the final 24 hours preceding the bout which is another old time ring training rule thrown into the discard.

Only two games in the Twilight League will be played this week at White Field. The Buckeye-Pharis game tonight will be a lively one. Should Pharis lose the Buckeye will tie with them in games won and lost. Should Pharis win, it will put them in the lead of the league by one game.

ALHAMBRA.
Theda Bara.
Zara (Theda Bara) is the Princess of Sclips, a South Sea Island. Majith, her father, is the chief of the tribe. Pulke, a pearl diver, is in love with Zara. When Zara falls in love with the white man, while the islanders feel the attraction of the dusky Princess, he remains faithful to his native back home. Pulke goes to Zara and Mark together and, with age jealousy aroused, demands the life of the white man. Zara defends Mark.

before her father, and Majith receives decision. Zara spins the perfect love of the pearl diver, who then with the high priest, enters into a plot against Zara. Zara and Mark, and confuses her mind. Her whole nature is stirred and her heart broken when she learns he is pledged to a white girl behind the rolling seas. Pulke, who has been overstepping, decides this is an opportunity to take the woman's life. He goes to the great for a cast through the window. Zara discovers him and protects the minister with her own bosom. "This is the story of a Woman There Was" in which Theda Bara is the star. It is shown today at the Alhambra.

"The Bondage of Barbara."
Mae Marsh. Mae Marsh, a lovely, charming, and graceful actress, is the star in her new Goldwyn Picture, "The Bondage of Barbara," which comes to the Alhambra theatre beginning Friday. She finds her happiest role as the "little mother" of a weak, younger brother, for whose shortcomings she holds herself responsible. He is used by two individuals to gain their own ends. One is "Blind" Sammons, keeper of a questionable resort. The other is Jack Newton, son of Barbara's employer. Tony, the brother, is a poor fellow who is in need of money for his time in New York. Jack Newton finds this out and until he is willing to accept money from him on the promise that he (Tony) will leave town for good. The money Tony gets by robbing the safe in Barbara's office, taking enough to pay his debts as well.

"Captured by Cannibals."
Minauer. Minauer offers today and tomorrow at the Auditorium, Martin Johnson's wonderful story, "Captured by Cannibals." This picture is a masterpiece in a desire to record the man and costumes of the first strong hold of cannibalism. Martin Johnson traveled 18,000 miles among the Solomon and New Hebrides Islands. Johnson, known as the "old" of London, on the "Sphinx," the first with him to sail, risked his life and brought back to America these wonderful views, which are said to be the most amazing, sensational and startling pictures of the strangest people on the face of earth in eating, in killing, in devil worshipping savages. You may have seen the first of these wonderful pictures now we offer them at a venture with King Neptune of the "The Numbers" trip.

The Johnsons had been told that on the island of Milidoo there lived this tribe of man-eating savages who lived in royal splendor, a king reared by his people and the ruler of a realm of 60 wives. They lived on the island and were led toward the "garden" of the king's natives and their own. The king and his people in this jungle world, he surrounded them with savages of his bodyguard and attempted to take them captive. The two whites were in this jungle land, betrayed even by their own men. You must see this feature, learn how they escaped by the aid of a Dutch man-of-war.

"A Dog's Life."
When a manager brings a picture back for the third showing, the stir

his voice is a thing of potential increase can be gathered from the recent announcement of a well known clipping bureau that he ranks third to President Wilson as the most frequently mentioned person in the newspaper world. Chaplin's "A Dog's Life" was his first feature made for The First National Exhibitors Circuit Corp. who are paying him over a million dollars a year and it has been shown in Newark as the most frequently mentioned picture in the newspaper world. The picture is a wonderful five reel feature, "Captured by Cannibals." This is a program none can afford to miss.

Nazimova.
Nazimova, the great Russian actress, has captured the climax of her brilliant career in her wonderful work in her latest screen play, "Toys of Fate." A Screen Classic, the production which will be shown by Metro. This comedy and drama, which is a masterpiece of stage play and "Revelation" and "Toys of Fate," her picture features, produced this year. "Toys of Fate," her latest screen masterpiece, is a gripping drama in which the gifted actress is given wide scope to display her tremendous dramatic powers. "Revelation," her first Screen Classic production, marked a new era in the art of motion pictures and was received by noted dramatic critics and the public as the greatest thing she had done on the stage or screen. "Toys of Fate" stars even this superb classic. This is seen at the Auditorium July Fourth.

"Blackie's Redemption."
Many of the beauties of the semi-tropical island of Santa Cruz will be seen in "Blackie's Redemption," the latest Metro production in which Bert Lattell is starred and which will be shown at one of Mr. Penberg's theatres next Sunday. The picture shows the rugged coast and much of the magnificent scenery of the interior of the island. Scenes of this kind were necessary to the production as, in the latter part of the story, where the beautiful romance of the play comes to a happy ending, Blackie played by Mr. Lattell and Mrs. Dawson, the girl of his heart go to a tropical island for their longed-for honeymoon.

DRESSMAKER SAVED FROM OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time.

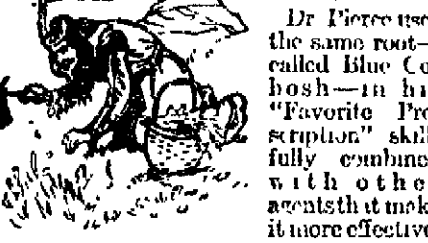

Ithaca, N. Y.—"Three years ago I suffered from pains in my right side, so severe that I could not raise my feet from the floor. Pains would shoot down my limbs and through my back, and the doctor said I had an abscess. I was in bed two weeks with an icebag on my side and expected any day that I might have to go to a hospital for an operation. A friend came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it, and after taking six bottles I feel well and strong, do my own work and do dressmaking for others. I cannot speak too highly of your medicine and recommend it to others who suffer with female trouble. It is a Godsend to ailing women, and you may use my name at any time."—Mrs. PERMILLA HULSHIZER, 218 E. Fall St., Ithaca, N. Y.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nature and the Indian

The Indian never liked work but he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible so that she could do the work and let him hunt, therefore he dug papoose root for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses.

Women who are worn out, who suffer from pain in the back or intervals, who are nervous, who at times, should take that really, top-rare, herbal tonic which a doctor in active practice prescribed many years ago. Now sold by druggists, in tablets and liquid, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Waco, Ohio—"As a tonic Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is excellent. I was feeling very miserable, was extremely nervous and completely run-down when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription.' The first bottle gave me great relief and by the time I had taken three bottles I was feeling fine. I gained in weight and was strong and healthy once more. I am glad to recommend 'Favorite Prescription' for I feel that it will do for others what it has done for me."—Mrs. J. P. Biglow, 111 E. Walnut St.

Second Installment of MARTIN JOHNSON'S STORY OF THE SOUTH SEAS

Captured By Cannibals

The War Drums were sounding.

In single file through the coconut nut grove the warriors, naked black giants, brandishing huge spears and gaily decorated with nose rings and human teeth and great brass anklets, charge down through the village of thatched huts.

The Devil-Devil Man has rolled the skulls in dried leaves and placed them over the fire to cure.

The native girls are dancing to the weird music of tom-tom and nose flute.

The virgins, painted from head to foot in vivid yellow, pass on their way to the marriage ground.

The annual fete of the Solomon Islands is on!

Stranger than any book of fiction, more weird than Jack London's tales of the tropics, more fascinating than Stevenson's imaginative narratives, is this actual picture of cannibal life on the South Seas as shown in

WHOLE COMMUNITY
ASTONISHED OVER
J. W. FORSTER CASE

Many people buy the new medicine Dreo, after learning actual facts.

Since learning the facts of the truly wonderful case of J. W. Forster, of Nottingham, Pa., it has caused such genuine astonishment to every one living in his community, who knew of his serious condition that many people have hastened to procure the medicine and are now using it. This is Mr. Forster's own statement:

"For more than eight years I have suffered from stomach trouble and during all that time I had to live on the very lightest things I could get. I could eat no meat at all, and even got to the point where sweet milk and other flimsy things I did eat often caused terrible suffering. I was badly constipated and was always taking something for that trouble. I was tired all the time and any exercise I would take would wear me out completely. I also suffered from pains in my sides and back, and could hardly sleep at all. I took many kinds of medicines for years, but kept losing weight and getting worse all the time.

"I had heard and read so much about Dreo, I decided to try it, and the day I took my first dose I realized I had found something to help me. It soothed my stomach and made it feel easier than in months. I have now taken two bottles of Dreo and am stronger than in many a year. I have never seen anything to equal Dreo. I can eat most anything I want, and as much as I please without any real after effect, and I sleep well at night. I am not one bit constipated and my nerves are as calm as a lamb. The pains have entirely left my side, and my strength and vitality are remarkable. Dreo has restored my health in every way, and I want every one to know what it is that has relieved me of all my suffering, and made a well man of me."

Cometic Art.
From the looks of some of the women when it turns cold, it would be a good proposition to sell different shades of powder for hot, warm, cool and cold weather. They say that they sell different shades for day and night—white for the daytime and blue for use under artificial light, so, why not for different degrees of temperature as well? However, probably some bright genius has already thought this up and patented his compound and it may not be well advertised as yet.—Grit.

Have Record for Laziness.
The Todas of India are said to be the laziest people in the world. The men of the household club together to take one wife to support, and then they let her do the work. The Todas have reduced the simple life to the formula: Do only what you must, and very little of that.

The Stormy Petrel.
The birds known to sailors as Mother Carey's chickens, whose appearance is supposed to foretell a storm, are otherwise known by the term stormy petrel (Thalassidroma pelagica). The bird seems to run in a remarkable manner along the surface of the sea, where it picks up its food. The petrel is a small bird of dusky plumage, nocturnal in habit, most abundant in the southern hemisphere. The name Mother Carey is supposed to be a corruption of the "Mother Cara"—dear mother—of Levantine sailors.

Was Last Polish King.
In 1798, on the 11th of April, Stanislaus Poniatowski, the last king of Poland, died. Poniatowski ascended the Polish throne in 1794. The condition of Poland required a strong man on the throne to keep the country from ruin, and Stanislaus lacked the necessary strength and statesmanship. Russia, Prussia and Austria divided this kingdom among them and the deposed king retired to Petrograd on a pension, where he died in 1798.

Founding of Siberia.
In 1582 Yermak, a Cossack chieftain, with chosen warriors set out to subdue a powerful Tartar tribe east of the Urals. Tsar Ivan IV sent orders for the expedition to return. But it was too late; Yermak and his men captured the city of Sibir, the stronghold of the Tartar chief, and this city became the nucleus of Siberia.

Doomed to Wretchedness.
Let a man choose what condition he will, and let him accumulate around him all the goods and gratifications seemingly calculated to make him happy in it; if that man is left at any time without occupation or amusement, and reflects on what he is, the meager, anguished felicity of his present lot will not bear him up. He will turn necessarily to gloomy anticipation of the future; and unless his occupation calls him out of himself, he is inevitably wretched.—Pascal.

A Great Man.
A great man is he who chooses the right in invincible resolution, who resists the worst temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully, who is calmest in storms, whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God, is most unflinching. I believe this greatness to be most common among the multitude, whose names are never heard.—W. E. Channing.
